Welcome to INHOUS.

We started the business with a clear objective. To improve the level of service that people receive when selling or buying prime properties in London and Dublin. We wanted to introduce a genuinely different way of doing things, to give our clients a better experience and elevate their expectations.

The way we do business is more transparent and we work hard to forge relationships with our clients that are built on trust. We are always on their side meaning that the advice and support we offer has a clear objective of obtaining the best possible result each time.

We work with high-net-worth time poor individuals who expect a certain quality of service. With a deep understanding of the links between our clients' personal and professional lives, INHOUS offer expertise across a range of property solutions. It is this attention to detail and quality of service that sets us apart.

Whether selling, buying or letting, our dedicated property consultants will offer objective advice and solutions. We work hard to ensure you are always better informed and better prepared to navigate the property market.

Tailored property solutions with exceptional results.

Who we are

INHOUS is an independent residential property consultancy helping high-net-worth individuals from across the globe buy, sell and let exceptional property. With an intrinsic understanding of the world you move in, INHOUS offer expertise across a range of property solutions. We exist to provide you with a better experience in the property market.

Our business was established to change the way people think about how properties are bought and sold. We offer an alternative to the traditional Estate Agency model. However, just being different isn't good enough for us. Always being better is our aim. We provide our clients with a better quality of service, advice and solutions to achieve better results.

Our relentless attention to all the small details can often make the biggest difference. Our clients benefit from our experience and expertise in the local property markets and our unbiased support and advice.

Our business is built on enduring relationships. Our uncompromising commitment to quality means that our clients are better informed and more in control at every stage of the process. INHOUS will be your trusted advisor and deliver a tailored solution which will navigate you through the property market.

Our services

Sales

When you sell your property with INHOUS, we leverage our exclusive network of buyers and agents to market your property to the most suitable buyers. With exceptional properties, the sales process needs a more tailored solution. We take care of the entire process and ensure you receive the right advice to achieve the best possible outcome.

Search

When conducting a property search for a client, we utilise our connections and exclusive network to source exceptional properties, some that might not be available on the open market. We will use our market knowledge and expertise to guide you through the process and help you secure the perfect property.

Relocation

We provide a turnkey relocation service for executives and private individuals moving to London and Dublin. We have designed specific relocation programmes to make your move a success. INHOUS will be on hand throughout the process, whenever you or your family need advice, assistance and support.

Lettings

We work with Landlords of outstanding properties to help source the most suitable tenants. We provide objective advice and solutions. We'll deal with the agents and marketing of the property, oversee viewings, offers and marketing of the property to ensure you achieve the right rental income and your asset is protected.

“At every point in the process, I felt in control.”

“When I was asked to be an Executor of a will, I had no idea what it would entail. The role brings a lot of stress with it. INHOUS were recommended to me and I can honestly say I could not have managed without them. I simply handed over the keys to them and they looked after everything else for me.”

Our network

Whether you are selling, buying or letting a property, you need exposure to as broad a network as possible. This is particularly true when it comes to transactions that involve exceptional, high-end properties.

INHOUS can introduce you to the right network and connections to achieve the outcome you're looking for in a timely and efficient manner.

We have a global network of buyers, investors, agents and industry professionals that ensures our clients gain access to greater opportunity in the property market. If you're selling a property, we'll introduce you to more potential buyers. If you're searching for a property, we'll be able to show you more of the options available to you. We work tirelessly on your behalf to provide you with the results you're looking for.

With private and corporate connections around the world, we attract the sort of inward investment to London and Dublin that could really benefit you in the sale of your property.

When it comes to searching for property, our local market connections and expertise mean that we can open up all the options available to you.

Our network provides better connections for better outcomes.

“You guided us through the whole process, you lifted any stress and anxiety we had. We are promoting you and your company any chance we get.”
